Creaseys to sponsor the Torchlight Dinner

Creaseys is very proud to announce that it is sponsoring a major fundraising corporate black-tie dinner next year in aid of Hospice in the Weald. The Torchlight Dinner – which boasts Dame Kelly Holmes as its special guest – is being held on Friday 24 February in the sumptuous surroundings of Hever Castle.

The Torchlight Dinner follows the success of Hospice in the Weald’s very first black-tie corporate dinner – Red8 - which took place in February this year and raised more than £20,000 for the charity.

“We are delighted to be supporting the Torchlight Dinner,” says Emma Roberts, Chief Executive of Creaseys. “Hospice in the Weald is a charity which works very closely with our local community here in West Kent and many of our staff and our clients have had personal experience of the very important work they do.”

She continues: “We are very proud to be based in Tunbridge Wells and like to work closely with organisations based close to us. Dame Kelly promises to be an inspiring speaker and is particularly relevant with the Olympics so near now. She’s also a local girl and already a key supporter of the Hospice.”

The Torchlight Dinner boasts a packed programme of entertainment, including a professional MC and an auction with some amazing prizes.

Tables of ten are available for £600 (or individual tickets at £65). For more information and details of sponsorship opportunities, please contact Rachel Holweger at Hospice in the Weald, tel: 01892 820536, or email: rachel.holweger@hospiceintheweald.org.uk
